

Recommended Monetization Model (Years 1–3)

For the first three years, I would recommend the following commercial model:

Personal Trainer Plans

- Free Trial
- Pro Plan: €49/month
- Elite Plan: €99/month

Marketplace Revenue

- 15% revenue share on clients acquired through the platform marketplace

End Customer Plans

- Free
- AI Fitness: €9.99/month
- AI Performance: €24.99/month

Why This Model?

Because both sides of the ecosystem can pay, but neither side is forced to pay. This significantly lowers the barrier to entry for both Personal Trainers and end users. At the same time, it creates multiple revenue streams and allows the business to discover which monetization engine scales most efficiently over time.

The model also provides strategic flexibility. As the platform grows, management can analyze customer behavior and determine whether subscription revenue, trainer licensing, marketplace commissions, or premium services represent the strongest long-term growth opportunity.

Investor Perspective

From an investor's perspective, the most compelling vision would be:

"The first AI-native platform that enables Personal Trainers to digitize, scale, and monetize their coaching methodology."

This positioning is significantly more powerful than simply being another application that generates workouts. It creates a defensible competitive advantage by transforming trainer expertise into a scalable digital asset, while simultaneously building a marketplace that connects users, trainers, and AI-driven personalization.
